

- The _____ has tried to get _____, _____, _____, and _____ to sign a treaty to keep nukes out of SE Asia.
- India says they need them since _____ and _____ have them.

Russia:

- The break up of the Soviet Union has been an opportunity for nuclear _____ and a great risk of nuclear proliferation.
- During the Cold War, nukes were under _____ control.
- After the USSR's break from Communism:
 - No one was sure who _____ the nukes.
 - With Russia's _____ in such poor shape, many _____ and workers could go to other countries with nuclear secrets and work for more _____.
- _____ people in Russia had nuclear expertise, and some made _____ a month. Libya had offered _____ a month for scientists to move there.
- It only takes _____ pounds of enriched uranium to make a bomb.
- The U.S. and Russia have agreed to eliminate _____ of our long-range weapons and _____ of our short range.
- The problem was that Russia had many different _____ groups that had control of different types of weapons. They have thousands in _____ and no one would miss a few.
- Another problem is: _____ to destroy them?
- The U.S. has destroyed them, and it takes _____ days to disarm one.
- Russia has little experience, it is estimated that it will take _____ years to destroy them.
- The U. S. sent $ _____ million to help Russia with disarmament, but not all the money can be accounted for.
- The U.S. has talked about _____ all their nuclear experts and put them to work here.